The above CFT courses will carry the same ACE college credit transfer recommendation, whether taken via classroom, online or guided study. ACE credit connects workplace learning with colleges and universities by helping adults gain access to academic credit at colleges and universities for formal courses and examinations taken in the workplace or other settings outside traditional higher education.

CFT educational programs deliver real value and industry-specific training to employees in the financial services community. CFT curriculum often ties directly to the financial institution's corporate training. ACE's College Credit Recommendation Service provides the added value of credit toward a college degree. Students who successfully complete ACE-evaluated CFT courses are able to obtain college credit recommendations from the ACE Transcript Service, a central national database submitted to various institutions of higher learning for consideration. In addition to the ACE Credit transfer recommendation, CFT also has a transfer credit agreement with Thomas Edison State College.
